Severest Sufferers in the Recent Slump Rise Most Buoyantly in the Recovery.

MESSAGE OF THE PRESIDENT

Effect of Document on Speculative Sentiment Entirely Miscalculated By Traders.

(By Associated Press.)

NEW YORK, May 4.- The movement of prices turned definitely against the shorts to-day, and a lively demand developed to-day, and a lively demand developed from uncovered bears to secure stocks. The rate of recovery was closely apportioned to that of the previous decline, the severest sufferers in the slump rising most buoyantly in the recovery.

The day thated with an attempt on the part of the bears to force a further decline, the attack centering on Amalgamated Copper in continuation of its closing weakness yesterday. Very light selling was forced by this drive, and the bears began a systematic movement to cover their shorts. Amalgamated Copper was a prominent leader of the recovery.

The upward movement guined force after the appearance of the President's special message on the Standard Oil inquiry, and it ilecame quickly manifest that the effect of the document on speculative sentiment had been entirely missalculated by the professional operators. There was an occasional halt in the advance, but no notble reaction after the feverish movements of the first hour. Reading was another very conspicuous feature in the recovery.

The preliminary estimates of the showing by to-morrow's bank statement are unusually involved, but the tone of the call money market was distinctly easier and the impression was strong that the condition of the banks was improved. Estimates of the cash of the clearing house banks for the chances in stocks show gains ranging between 2 and 10 points for all the active issues, and the closing tone was buoyant, with the bears in full rout and scrambling to cover shorts.

Bonds were irregular; total sales, par value, $2,29,000. United States bonds were all unchanged on call.

The total sales of stocks amounted to 1.672,900 shares. upward movement gained force

PRODUCE MARKET.

Not Quite So Much Money Required for To-day's Marketing. Business was very active on Cary Street yesterday. The receipts of country produce were larger than on the day before and the demand decidedly more active. Retail dealers and market men were in search of stock to supply the Saturday demand for the proverbial Sunday din-ner, and the commission men had but little trouble in cleaning up their stocks of vegetables and other good things to

While the market was very active, there were no material changes in the price list. Of course, there were exceptions to this rule. For instance, strawberries are away off, owing to the heavy deliveries. Fine berries could be bought yesterday almost at the bidder's own figures. Perhaps none wholesaled for less than five cents per quart, but very few went above that figure.

The increased demand and the excellent quality of the goods received tended to advance the figures on cabbage a fraction. New potatics from the far South, being a little more plentiful, went off, a shade in price. With these exceptions the wholesale market remained about as it was. While the market was very active WHEAT-No. L 7914 8014 7914 7914 7914 7814 7814 7814 7814 7814 about as it was. Retail prices will, of course, be gauged by the rulings on Cary Street, and so the people who go out to-day to skir-mish around the markets for their Sunday big dinner, may be safe in taking along a purse that is just a shade lighter than the one they carried to the market house last Saturday.

British Government, Supported By France and Russia, Sends Ultimatum to Turkey.

(By Associated Press.)

LONDON, May 4.—A Cabinet council was held late to-day to discuss the eventualities which possibly may arise as a result of an ultimatum presented to Turkey.

result of an ultimatum presented to Turkey.

The British ambassador at Constantinople yesterday presented a note to Turkey demanding the prompt withdrawal of the Turkish troops from Exputian territory. The note is practicully an ultimatum and consultutes Great Britain's last word on the encroachment of Turkey on the Sinattle peninsula. The French and Russian ambassadors at Constantinople are supporting the British contentions.

nople are supporting the British contentions.

Should the ultimatum fail to have the desired effect the British Mediterranean fleet will take the measure so often employed by the powers in recent years as the result of disputes with the Sultan, and a naval demonstration, it is anticipated will quickly bring about the evacuation of the Tabah territory which Great Britain contends is unquestionably Egyptian territory.

The Sulton was given ten days in which to comply with the British demand for the withdrawal of his troops from Tabah and other points on the Sinai peninsula, pending the delimination of the frontier by a commission.

Leaf Tobacco Market.

Leaf Tobacco Market,

All the tobacco warehouses had small breaks yesterday, and the week's business closed with a firm market and an active demand for all good sun-cured stock. The total sales for the week did not exceed 100,000 pounds. The offerings in the main were of medium goods, fillers that readily commanded from $7$ to $14$ per hundred. No wrappers showed up during the entire week. It is not believed, however, that the supply is entirely exhausted. Tobacco men think the farmers are yet holding back some of the best of their last year's crop of suncured, and they rather expect to see a pretty good showing of sun-cured wrappers within the next two or three weeks. The "seasons" for the past week have been splichtlid for stripping, and the warehousemen think a good deal of the growers was prepared for market this week and will come in for next week's breaks.

LIBERALS PLAN GREAT UPHEAVAL

Majority, However, Wish to Avoid Open Conflict As Long As Possible.

(By Associated Press.) ST. Petersburg, May 4.—A spirit of enthuslasm and resolution marked the opening to-day of the convention of the Cou stitutional Democrats, which assembled in Princess Tenisheff's school to discuss the party's programme and tactics in Besides two hundred members-elect of Parliament belonging to the party there were present as spectators sixty peasant were present as spectators sixty peasant members. It was evident at the outset from the temper of the speeches of the leaders that while resolutely determined to secure the fruits of their victory at the polls, and force the government eventually to yield a constitution along the lines which they demand, they will try to avoid an open conflict with the government as long as possible.

demand, they will try to avoid an open conflict with the government as long as possible.

Nevertheless, there exists a minority which favors precipitation and courts an open rupture, the sooner the better. They, however, probably will fall in line with the majority.

Professor Milukoff, who sounded the key note, spoke in a surprisingly hopeful tone, believing it possible that Parliament will accomplish something and that the government dare not go too far in thwarting the wishes of the people.

Prince Paul Dolgoroukoff, a descendant of the Rurks, who is being held in reserve for the position of first liberal promier in event of a complex victory for the party, was chosen president amid rousing cheers. In a brief speech the Prince urged the necessity for not playing politics, but for serious work. Then, if the government stupidly attempted to rustrate, the plain will of the people, the responsibility, for the consequences would be on its head.

Mr. Barr had rendered in the railroad world.

The tribute paid by Mr. Stevens to Mr. Barr was most heartfelt. He pleasantly remarked that every one who came to Virginia wanted to remain a Virginian. President L. S. Johnsoit, of the Norfolk and Western, spoke of his service, both with and under Mr. Barr, and said the latter could give the present occupant of the White House points on being strenuous. He had never known a more earnest or more large-hearted or capable man than Mr. Barr, to whom he paid a high tribute, both on account of his devotion to duty and his fine personal character. character. New President Speaks.

New President Speaks.

Mr. Walter, who succeeds Mr. Barr as the president of the Seaboard, said there was nothing more difficult than to organize a railroad. He had been fully convinced of this since coming into a position vacated by Mr. Barr, and he bore testimony to the thorough and systematic manner in which Mr. Barr had gotten the affairs of the Seaboard.

Judge William Josiah Leake, president of the Richmond, Fredericksburg and Potomac, spoke of his association with Mr. Barr on the board of the Richmond, Fredericksburg and Potomac, and the Washington-Southern. He paid Mr. Barr the high compliment of saying that during the entire association Mr. Barr had served as a member of the board of these two roads with an eye single-to their benefit and the advancement of their interests, Judge Leake expressed his high appreciation of Mr. Barr as a railroad man and personally.

Colonel Grundy, one of the hosts of the cyening, briefly expressed the pleasure he shared with Mr. Stevens at having Mr. Barr as their guest, and spoke of the deservedly high position hold by Mr. Barr in the business and railroad world. Governor Swanson, in his speech, dwwith some emphasis on the reciprocal duties of railroads to the public, and said in his opinion, the managers of railroads ought to regard themselves somewhat as trustees for the stockholder and the public. He assured the railroad men in the company that so long as the roads acted in good faith and fairness, they would find in him a good friend, but, of course, his first duty under all circumstances was to the people.

Mr. Henry C. Stuart spoke especially in behalf of the people of Southwest Virginia, and in a most felicitous manner reviewed the extraordinary results of Mr. Barr is work in the material development of that section of the State. He said he desired on behalf of the people in the torritory traversed by the Norfolk and Western Railroad, to express their appreciation of what Mr. Barr had done.
